

Dear Supporter,

I am proud to endorse who I believe is the only choice for House District 22, and that candidate is Christian Manuel. I've known Christian for about a year, only a fraction of the many years the district has known him. In that short amount of time he has demonstrated the makings of a statesman, a coalition builder, and someone who's focused on making headway over headlines.

Christian works quietly behind the scenes to deliver for HD 22 and for the people of Texas, both in his office and around the capitol. During my freshman term, Christian Manuel was a resource to my office and to my new Chief of Staff. Christian trained him, mentored and gave him counsel — and for that, both my district and I are grateful. He has a deep understanding of the legislative process and how to be effective within the system while still being an agent of change. This is not an easy line to walk, yet he has mastered this ability. Christian's relationships in this building will be to the benefit of the people of Jefferson County. He is a strong believer in and defender of the Democratic process, a voice for rural Texans, and a fighter for District 22.

Though I represent an urban portion of Dallas, I started my career as a public defender and Democratic County Party Chair in rural East Texas. Christian is who we need on the ballot in a tough midterm election when Democrats are poised to lose seats. He will do the work to earn your trust and he will do his part to turn out the vote for Democrats. Though he may be quiet, his record of achievements speaks loudly for itself. Just as loudly as my dear friend Chairman Joe Deshotel sings his praises and gives him due credit for Christian's role in Joe's success.

Now I'm asking you to support Christian in any way you can to ensure he is elected. Please rush a donation to his campaign, sign up to volunteer, put a sign in your yard, tell your neighbors about him, and most importantly GO VOTE!

I am proud and honored to enthusiastically endorse Christian Manuel without any reservations.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'J. Crockett'.

Texas State Representative Jasmine Crockett
Candidate for US Congress